The Wellington Winds, a group of 34 professional and semi-professional musicians, utilizes the instruments from the brass, woodwind, and percussion sections of the orchestra. This format allows for the performance of a broad spectrum of musical styles, from popular arrangements to full orchestral transcriptions. The formation of a group of this calibre is a first for the City of Guelph and perhaps the entire province. It is the objective of this ensemble to maintain the highest possible standard of performance while employing musicians from Guelph and the surrounding areas. We hope you have enjoyed this evening's performance and that you will continue to enjoy the Wellington Winds at future concerts.
