

MUSIC IS FOR LIFE

Exploring and Celebrating
the Wind Band Community

SYMPOSIUM

Thursday May 7 to
Sunday May 10, 2009
Wilfrid Laurier University,
Waterloo, Ontario

Together we will make music, share and exchange our knowledge of community bands, and interact with musicians - from high school students to seniors - across the lifelong continuum of music making.

Bring your ears, bring your horn,
and join the band!

Special Guest Ensembles include:

The Central Band of the Canadian Forces
Wellington Winds
Kitchener Musical Society Band
Hamilton Concert Band
Intrada Brass
Brassroots
Jazz FM91 Toronto Youth Big Band

MUSIC IS FOR LIFE

May 7-10, 2009

New Horizons "Camp With a Twist"

Thursday, May 7 – Sunday, May 10

Running concurrently with many other events, this is a camp with a difference, which is designed for the New Horizons movement and which offers many unusual opportunities. Here's your chance to play, to get instruction from some of the stars of the New Horizons movement in Ontario, to connect with other New Horizons members from far and wide, and to take in concerts by some of the best Ontario wind ensembles, large and small.

- Green/Red/Blue Band Rehearsals
- Clinics with Central Band of Canadian Forces Symphonic Band
- Sectionals
- Electives: Jazz, Dixie, Instrumental Choirs
- Concerts (see next page)
- Social Activities: Dance, Banquet
- Mother's Day Brunch and Concert

Select High School Students

Friday, May 8

The Central Band of the Canadian Forces will rehearse with select students from the Waterloo/Wellington region. Members of the band will lead sectionals, and the director of the band, Major Brian Greenwood, will conduct a second rehearsal with the students. These students will perform a work with the Central Band of the Canadian Forces during their evening concert.

- Rehearsal/Reading session with the Central Band
- Sectional with Central Band musicians
- Concert performance with the CBCF
- Rehearsal with Brian Greenwood

Banquet Friday, May 8

New Horizons International founder, Dr. Roy Ernst, will speak briefly about the intergenerational theme of the Symposium. Live music will be provided. Food and wine will be served buffet style with vegetarian options.

Big Band Dance Saturday, May 9

An after-concert dance will feature the Royal City Big Band and jazz bands from the New Horizons camp - your chance to jump and jive!

Composite Community Band

Saturday, May 9

Join together with musicians from community bands in the Waterloo Region and beyond to create a composite band. The day will culminate in a evening performance shared with Intrada Brass and the Wellington Winds.

You will sit with members of the CBCF, in rehearsal and as part of the Saturday evening concert, under two of Canada's leading band conductors, Major Brian Greenwood and Bobby Herriot.

- o Two combined band rehearsals
- o Repertoire reading session with the CBCF
- o Concerts
- o Roundtable discussions
- o Combined Community Band performance
- o Band aid
- o Dance

Public Concerts

May 8: Friday evening's concert will feature the Central Band of the Canadian Forces under Brian Greenwood, joined in a spectacular performance by Waterloo/Wellington region high school music students. The JazzFM91 Toronto Youth Big Band will perform a pre-performance feature, so plan to arrive early.

May 9: Saturday evening's performance will feature the Intrada Brass under Bram Gregson, the Wellington Winds under Michael Purves-Smith, and a rousing performance by community band members from across Southern Ontario joined together with some members of the CBCF in a composite band led by Major Brian Greenwood and Bobby Herriot.

May 10: Sunday afternoon's Mother's Day Concert features the outstanding Brassroots under Bram Gregson. Bring your mother, and she will receive a special gift to honour her presence.

Roundtables, Clinics

Saturday, May 9

Explore issues relevant to the care and maintenance of the community band.

Interact with leading band directors, including Bobby Herriott, Bram Gregson, John Little, Graz Brescacin, and Michael Purves-Smith, who will bring their wealth of experiences to the table. Topics will include repertoire, programming, the best practices in running a vibrant community band organization, and strategies for keeping young people engaged in music-making throughout their lives. Consultation with Gary Armstrong and Ron Partch, two of the outstanding wind instrument repair specialists in the province, will be available at special band aid clinics.

- o Instrument Clinics
- o Roundtable discussions
