OUR SOLOISTS

JIM EDWARDS

Jim attended St Francis Xavier University and the Canadian Forces School of Music studying euphonium with CWO Verne Smith. Upon graduation, Jim was posted to Calgary in the PPCLI Band. Currently principal trombonist with the Guelph Symphony, Jim also plays with the Wellington Winds, Slide by Slide Trombone Quartet and Brassroots. He has played in the Stratford Symphony and freelanced throughout Southwestern Ontario. An avid fan of technology, Jim holds an M.Sc. in Information Systems, has undertaken graduate study at IUPUI in Music Technology, and has completed his MBA at Royal Roads University.

JOHN MONKHOUSE

Since graduating from the University of Western Ontario, John has continued to perform in all styles of music ranging from classical, chamber, and musical theatre to Oktoberfest polkas. He is currently principal trombone / euphonium with Brassroots, Slide by Slide Trombone Quartet and the Wellington Winds, of which he is one of the founding members. An amateur hockey player, canoeist and skier, John still finds some spare time to operate his wire spring manufacturing business in Guelph, Ontario.
